GUARD REVIEW ATTRACTS THOUSANDS

GOV. GREEN REVIEWS TROOPS. SENATOR VANDENBERG GIVES MEM. ADDRESS

They came from every direction, Sunday, to attend the annual review of Michigan National Guard, at Camp Grayling as the several organizations passed before Governor Green and Major Gen. Wilson and other reviewing officers. With bands playing and flags and banners flying, each regimental company looked its best as they passed the reviewing station.

Autos lined the highways about the parade grounds three deep and everywhere about the mammoth camp grounds cars were parked, as their occupants found favorable positions for looking on.

For an hour before the review was to start, organizations were busy taking their respective stations. And last came Gov. Green and Gen. Wilson and staff mounted who first approached an auto in which rode Mrs. R. Hanson and her family where both the Governor and General greeted Mrs. Hanson and told her they were glad to have her present. The late Mr. Hanson had always been a conspicuous figure at the reviews during all the past years the Guard has been coming to Grayling. Mrs. Hanson had never before witnessed a review and, at the personal invitation of Gen. Wilson, was present that day.

Our chief executive and Gen. Wilson were applauded as they passed along before the huge crowd that lined the field. They rode around the field inspecting each department, returning the salutes of the officers and men.

After the regiments passed the reviewing officers, they left the field in double time, returning to their headquarters. It took longer than an hour for all to pass, and everything went off orderly and without confusion. The absence of Michigan's crack cavalry regiment was greatly noticed by the crowd. This organization completed their training a week earlier than usual and had returned to their home stations. However, it was the exhibit, three airplanes of Michigan National Guard Air Service came across the field, flying low, after which the airman gave an exhibition of sensational flying that greatly thrilled the vast crowd.

Visit Flying Field. After the review many visited the flying field north of town. Hundreds of autos parked about the roadways. To entertain the crowd Major Evans and others of his flying corps took flights and did a number of loop-the-loops, nose dives and whirled and other stunts to the amazement of the crowd.

Also Serg. Barr and Corp. Nicholson did some very thrilling and clever parachute drops. Two planes belonging to the Foster Airways, Lansing, were kept busy taking up passengers, and served of men, women and children were privileged to view the landscape from the clouds.

On Monday the Guard began a two-day "war time" maneuver. The officers and men packed their kits and hied to the wilderness and other strategic places, prepared to stay out all night. The Guard was divided into two parties, the blues and the reds. The Tuesday night edition of the Detroit News gave an account of the maneuver, and it read as follows:

Take To Woods. At noon the guardsmen quit the road for the shade of pines and oaks along the way. They hungrily munched sandwiches and found pleasure in coffee, although the day was hot. Then for a half hour they dozed on the ground.

An order came to enter the woods to the right and the infantry cut across second growth timber, unpenetrated since the overnight hikes of last August. Late in the day the advance guard sighted hostile troops near the Three Sister Range of hills south of Portage Lake. The troops were ordered to reconnoiter. In preparation for the bivouac shelter tents were pitched and field kitchens set up. At 6 p. m. the infantry, strung along a mile front, partook of a steaming hot mess. Horses were watered and fed, guns and ammunition inspected and camp well in order before dark and camp well in order, before darkness came.

To the front camped the 142nd Heavy Artillery, of Detroit, in command of Col. Heinrich A. Pickett, with its full complement of heavy guns, and the 119th Light Artillery.

To Attack Today. At 4:40 a. m. today, the infantry was to go into attack against the enemy. White tape strung between stakes was to indicate hostile trenches, and stumps and pipes machine gun nests.

Howitzer companies were to storm these positions with trench mortars and 37 mm. guns while the artillery was to fire over the heads of the gunners into a restricted area. Planes of the air service were to circle overhead, observe the battle and drop messages.

Attached to each platoon of infantry was to be an ambulance, with a driver and orderly to carry the "wounded" in stretchers to the ambulances, and thence to the field hospitals.

The war problem, the most difficult ever attempted by the Michigan National Guard, was to teach the troops to execute orders quickly and efficiently. Guard officials, in the role of judges, were to observe the battle from the enemy lines and formulate situations for the troops to solve.

The Guard will conclude their training for this summer tomorrow Friday, when most of the organizations will leave for their home stations. Throughout the camp the weather has been very good. The days have been a little warm at times, but the cool nights stimulated sound sleep with the result that the men had plenty of hard work and plenty of rest.

Distinguished Officers Visit Camp. Several distinguished federal officials visited camp during the week. Among them were Capt. Phillips and Sgt. King of the Militia Bureau, Washington, D. C., who made a non-stop flight from Bolling Field (Washington) to Grayling airport, making the trip in four hours.

These officers were on an inspection tour of all National Guard air service camps. They remained in Grayling two days and said they were well pleased with this airport, and said they wished Detroit had one as good. They used a Douglas C-2 airplane, which requires a larger field for landing than any other in the army service. They had plenty of room for landing and lots of room left. An abundance for taking off.

Capt. Phillips and Sgt. King left here at 7:00 a. m. Sunday morning for Detroit, Michigan, via Cincinnati.

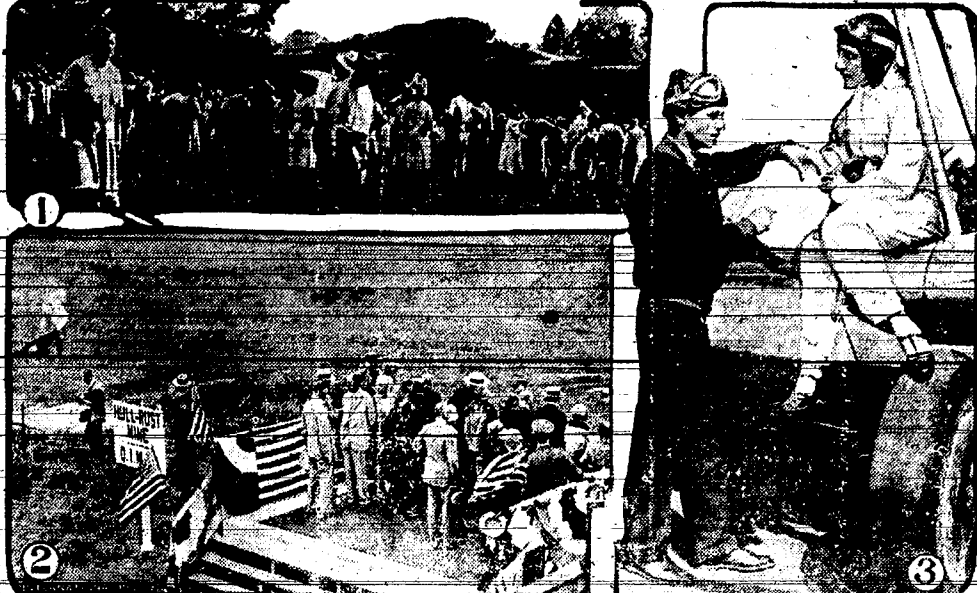

Governor and Senator Visit Camp. Gov. Fred W. Green of Lansing and U. S. Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Grand Rapids and Washington, arrived in camp Saturday. They received a most cordial welcome. In the evening a ball was given in the officers club house in honor of the Governor at which time His Honor and Senator Vandenberg were in the receiving line. On the following morning the visitors were escorted to the camp. At 10 a. m. Senator Vandenberg gave the address at the memorial services in memory of the men of the Michigan division of the World-war who had lost their lives.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

On Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. David LaMotte renewed their pledge of loyalty to each other at the altar of St. Mary's church before Rev. Fr. J. J. Culligan, and in the presence of hosts of relatives and friends, as on that day they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The bride and groom, their daughter and her groom, their daughter and her groom, and their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaMotte and their granddaughter, Yvonne Sancier, acted as ring bearers. Mrs. LaMotte was lovely in a gown of lavender crepe de chene with hat to match, while Mr. LaMotte, Jr., wore a gown of green and Mrs. Sancier, a gown of pea green crepe with hats to match.

It was a very pretty ceremony and words of beautiful tribute to this bride and groom who have braved the ups and downs of life all these years and are still smiling.

Following the service Mr. and Mrs. LaMotte entertained a large number of relatives at their home who remained with them for a few days, during which a sumptuous dinner was enjoyed.

Mrs. LaMotte was formerly Brigid Lovelly, oldest daughter of Peter and Philogene Lovelly, who will be remembered by many of the older residents here. She was born at Thurso, Canada, Province of Quebec on June 21, 1857, and Mr. LaMotte was also born in Thurso, on May 23, 1859.

Here in the same place they were married by Rev. Fr. King in the little Catholic church. After a couple of years they left Canada for New York where they lived for nine years and then to Bentley, where they engaged in farming and remained for two years. In the fall of 1890 they came to Grayling where they have since resided. To the union ten children were born, four of whom died in their infancy. Paul, Emma, Rosie and Mary, while six children survive. Those remaining are: Eva, now Mrs. Sancier, Frank, Jerry, Isaac, John and Walter.

In the early days, Mr. LaMotte worked for loggers in the woods, which was when lumbering was in full swing in these parts, continuing this work for 18 years. In his late years he had been employed by the Michigan Central railroad. Both are hale and hearty and enjoying life to its fullest, happy in each other's companionship and as true as gold.

Just recently Mr. and Mrs. LaMotte purchased the George Land house on Spruce street, where they are nicely domiciled and where they expect to spend the remainder of their days. Those from out of town in attendance at the celebration included: Mr. and Mrs. Peter-Poy of Garden Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaMotte daughters Maggie and Marie and son Donny, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clough and Mrs. Joseph Pentrack, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dionne and son Francis, Messrs. Edward and George Dionne, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac LaMotte, Mr. and daughter Betty, Miss John T. Vaughn, all of Detroit; Miss Marie Lovelly, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Sivrais and family, Cheboygan, who together with the many relatives in Grayling made up a large gathering.

SUMMER FESTIVITIES FOR YOUNG AND OLD

T. W. Hanson and Miss Virginia and Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hanson and Misses Margrethe and Ella entertained a large number of friends at a dancing party Monday evening. The affair was given at Cohen's pavilion with the Red Stripes playing. Both the informality and the general happiness of the crowd made the dancing a pleasure and everyone had a most enjoyable time. Light refreshments were served at midnight. Besides the dancing guests there were a number of young people from out of town, some of them coming especially for the party.

For the pleasure of William O'Beck, house guest of her son, Esben Hanson, Jr., Mrs. Esben Hanson entertained twelve couples at dinner Saturday evening. The great quantity of flowers which were given to the bride and groom, and the decorations for the affair, later in the evening the party attended the Governor's ball at the Officers' Club house, Camp Grayling. The guests were: William O'Beck, Esben Hanson, Jr., Donna Burden, Betty Kendall, John Pochelon, Albert Pochelon, Emma Louise Pochelon, Oscar Marx, Robert Rains, Nels Michelson and Frank Michelson, all of the Esben Hanson household, and Mary Kathryn Callen and Mary Branigan of Chicago.

NEW BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The new books have just come and I am leaving but hope they will be enjoyed by all. In the past year there were 6,321 books and 373 magazines borrowed from the library. Also from Jan. 21, 1928 to March 11, 1928 we had a story hour for the children. The stories were told by Mr. Chas. Galthro who certainly knew how to tell them. During this time 170 children attended, all eager for more and were sorry when we had to discontinue the hour. Some times they would ask for the same stories several times.

The following is a list of stories told at this time: "How the Camel got his hump," "The Elephant's Child," "Tom Thumb," "Kind and Clutch," "Rugger Man," "Hawthorne's Child," "Wishing Man," "Night Wind," "Hawthorne's Sailing," "Story of Benjamin," "The Owl's answer to Tommy," "An Apple Orchard in the Spring," "Story of Moses," "The Time that came again," "Dunder," "Story of Pretty Goldlocks," "Farm Yard Song," "A Boy's Song," "Ruth the Gleaner," "Jack the Giant Killer," "The Brown Thrush," "Rock-a-by-lady," "The Happy Prince," "Pieper," "Snow White and Red Rose," "Toads and Diamonds," "Joseph the Dreamer," "Thimbleton," "Mother Lode," "Little Jackals and Lion," "Three Piggy Wigs," "Giant of Band," "Dorcas' Ball," "Dutch Laundry," "Hodge Apple and Fairies Gold," "I have enjoyed my work at the library very much and hope you will all do as much to help the new librarian as you have me."

THURSDAY, AUG. 16, 1928.

TWO things should be done to make driving safe on the lake road. One is that white fences should be placed at the sides of the highway between the bridge and the beginning of the narrow roadway toward town. The other danger comes when cars pass in the night and drivers become blinded by the lights from approaching cars. Even when both cars dim their lights there is still danger of running off the bank into the soft mud at the sides. It requires the most careful driving at that place but the best of drivers have to meet others who fail to take reasonable precautions. We believe the Highway Department would readily provide this safety measure if they understood the conditions.

Another very unsafe condition is at the railroad crossing, especially during the season of the year when the National Guards are in camp and the traffic is heavy. Electric flash lights at the crossing warn of approaching trains on the main track, but there are no such side tracks at that place where anyone not familiar with the situation would not understand the danger from approaching trains on the siding. This would be especially San Diego, Calif., after spending several weeks at their cabin on the point danger comes when cars pass the rear cars. A watchman should be placed at that point at all hours of the day and night when there are trains operating on the sidings. Only last week an auto was struck by a backing train at that crossing. Unless provisions are made for making that crossing safe we apprehend that serious accidents will follow. Autos can be repaired and replaced but human lives may have to pay the penalty of neglect to make that crossing safe.

HE WHO GETS SLAPPED.

What might be called a new version of "He Who Gets Slapped" has as its principal Mr. John J. Raskob of Delaware, who undertook to hold jointly the chairmanship of the finance committee of the General Motors Corporation and the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee. His former business associates have given him definitely to understand that politics and business do not mix, so far as General Motors is concerned. Following certain intimations to that effect from high officials of the company, Mr. Raskob resigned the chairmanship of the finance committee.

SOME NEGLECTED ROADS

A two weeks trip into Northern Michigan reveals that the roads in general are very good. Two notable exceptions stand out. The trunk line U. S. 27 through the center of the state from Houghton Lake north as far as Frederic was in terrible condition. Heavy traffic and equally heavy rains made it the worst road we have travelled in years. It was rutted deeply and any speed in excess of 20 miles per hour was dangerous. Lack of proper maintenance seems to us to have been the trouble. stretches where the work was in evidence were excellent. This road is the main artery for Eastern and Central Michigan to the Straits and ought to be a good road. The state highway department has fallen down seriously through Roscommon and Grayling and worst of all the state military encampment was in progress in the later city, drawing thousands who had to travel this road.

Another road which needs attention immediately is the trunk line from St. Ignace to the Straits. This road is now being paved for a short distance north of St. Ignace but it needs miles of additional concrete to make it a fitting road to the great lake city. This is one of the important gate ways to the Upper Peninsula and it seems strange that it has been neglected so long. Houghton Daily

Many people attended the lawn social given by the Woman's Home Missionary society of Michelson Memorial church on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Victor Smith last evening. The refreshments were delicious and the ladies enjoyed their treasury by a nice little sum. A band of little folks put on a program of singing and dancing and kept the crowd in a happy mood while they were seated at the tables. The lawn was lighted by Jack-o'-lanterns and the tables decorated with baskets of garden flowers.

Large crowds enjoyed the band concert given at the band stand on the court-house lawn, one of which took place Monday evening and the other last evening. On Monday the 107th Medical Company band gave a fine concert and presented one of their men who delighted the crowd with many well rendered selections. OAKS REUNION.

The seventh annual Reunion of the Oaks family, which is represented in Grayling by Mrs. P. R. Deckrow and family, was held Saturday at Conine's Grove on the AuSable.

Friday afternoon saw the first arrivals with tents and camping outfits and a pleasant evening was spent in the grove. Many came Saturday morning and by the time the long tables were made ready and heavily laden 88 members of the family were present, coming from Flint, Lansing, Burt, Flushing and Sunny-side.

The day was ideal and from the oak trees in lieu of acorns, bunches of bananas were suspended, a sure attraction for the children. The table was centered with a very attractive cake upholding seventy-six candles, in honor of the seventy-sixth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Floyd Penoyer of Flushing, who also received a birthday present from the "family" as did Mr. Gilmor Sparks of Flint whose birthday it was. Mr. Penoyer received the prize that is given each year to the oldest Oaks member. Mrs. Sparks and Arthur St. Dennis, both nine months, received prizes for being the youngest present.

At the end of the very sumptuous dinner a business meeting was held. Minutes of the last meeting were read and new officers chosen. Letters from Mrs. H. B. McKenney of Morgan, Minnesota and Mrs. Carry C. Danielson of Woodburn, Oregon, were read. Floyd Penoyer was elected President and Hugh Oaks Vice-President.

The entertainment committee, Mrs. Deckrow, John Stephan and John Deckrow, then took charge and contests and races were enjoyed by all. Liberal prizes being given to the winners. All entered into the spirit of having a good time and when balloons and all day suckers were passed to the "children" there were found to be no old people present.

This is the first time the reunion has been held here and that it was a success was evidenced by the fact that it was unanimously voted to return next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Oaks, former Grayling residents, and their daughters Dorothy and Barbara Mr. and Mrs. John West and two small sons, Ralph and Arthur, arrived Friday, enjoyed brief visits with old friends and left Saturday evening for Indian River to visit Mrs. Oaks' brother, Forrest Wilcox. Oscar Deckrow of Flint visited with his family who are spending the summer here.

Others remained until Sunday and the reunion was not really over until the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Giles Oaks of Sunnyside who remained until Tuesday to rest and visit.

VARIOUS PLANS TO STEAL TIME AND MONEY FROM THE UNWARY

Bankers Association Official Tells How Young People Are Fleeced in "Hokum Pokum" Movie Schemes—The Investor Loses Savings by Listening to Messrs. Slick and Smooth.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

THE fabulous salaries paid stars of the first magnitude, and the publicity of the "movies" naturally create longing in the breasts of thousands of our young Americans to get into motion pictures. Because so many are ready to leave home, and risk everything on a fling at motion pictures, unscrupulous persons have devised ways of fleecing these ambitious young people out of their savings. "Hokum-pokum" schemes of various kinds are used with great success. Fake courses in the art of acting before the camera, fake courses on how to make-up, fake registration gags and screen tests, are among the schemes used to separate these thousands of young people from their cash. The pilgrimage to the motion picture centers by thousands of novices usually ends disastrously for the pilgrims. Naturally a few are successful, but only a very, very few, the ninety and nine meeting with disappointment. The truth is, the number of persons who seek to "break into" the movies exceed the number of available positions by one hundred to one, while in the realm of popular stars it is

Don't be misled by the promises of promoters of hokum-pokum schemes that there is room for all, because this last year over 100,000 young people knocked at the door for admission and were turned away because there was no room on the inside for them. Consult your banker or address the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, for information or advice regarding any enterprise that seeks to gain possession of your money. They will give disinterested counsel before it is too late.

Also let every investor approached by either Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth with a proposition yielding big dividends from which they can make money always spell financial disaster ahead. To every investor who is inexperienced in making investments, in other words perhaps just a little green and perhaps a little too easy, any offer coming from this source should be like a red flag warning to stop to a complete stop.

Such investments as Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth offer are too good to be true and therefore they are not true. Slick, Smooth and Company are not miracle workers although from their sales talk you would infer that they could make you rich as if by magic. No, they are not miracle workers—just slick and smooth.

The Estate Gag.
Many from "estate" representing six billions of dollars have been used as bait to interest a lot of savers and finally bleed them of their savings. The scheme is built around a supposed search for the heirs to certain phantom estate. At all costs these heirs must be found. Every person who can by any hook or crook, figure it out, that he is in anyway related to the deceased are urged by some shyster lawyer or genealogist to send in their names and their life history.

Soon they receive glad tidings telling them that their family tree can be traced back to the deceased. In fact, they are a direct descendant and an heir at law.
Like fake raffles everybody who responds to the search is found to be a winner—in other words an "heir". Here is where the rainbow chaser gets trimmed. Before his claim to the mythical thousands can be pressed so as to insure success a demand is made on him to advance attorney's fees and pay the expense of tracing through his genealogy.

Not surmising that he is being trapped and seeing only the big inheritance which he is led to believe he will soon receive, he draws the amount necessary from his savings account and sends it on, not knowing he is actually throwing it away. But as for like thousands and thousands of other rainbow-chasers, he parts with it for the last time.
So-called estate schemes which have produced thousands of "heirs" and at a heavy loss to them have been worked under the following names:

The Pilgrimage to the Movies

Baker $ 250,000.00
Chadwick 37,000.00
Edwards 90,000.00
Ingraham 600,000.00
Hyde 360,000.00
Jennings 400,000.00
Hedges 250,000.00
Kern 200,000.00

Chase 1,300,000.00
Townley 500,000.00
Webster 50,000.00
Welsh 20,000.00
Again, before parting with your money in any scheme you do not know all about consult your banker or a Better Business Bureau.

Isobel Stone

From the Pennsylvania state executive mission to a sunken barge, is the sad story of the Misses Isobel and Peggy Stone, daughters of the late Gov. William M. A. Stone of Pennsylvania. From a fortune of millions, from art and opera and sculpture, from the best drawing rooms in the nation, to a dingy derelict barge anchored in the muddy waters of Sherman creek, near 41 Dyckman street, New York. When Governor Stone died it was said he left a large estate. When settlement of the estate was made, the girls were given only $3,000. They are still fighting for the mysteriously vanished millions, but they have little hope. Isobel appeared in several Broadway productions before her present poverty was known to herself. Now that she needs a job, it is not forthcoming. However, she manages to support herself and sister Peggy, who has been unemployed for some time over the radio weekly, and by infrequent work in night clubs.

BAY CITY PAPER ISSUES BIG NUMBER

(By E. M. T. Service)

The Bay City Democrat, a weekly newspaper with a long record of constructive achievement behind it, recently issued an anniversary edition. The edition was a credit to the publisher, George Washington, and his staff.

Incidentally, a reference was made to the East Michigan Tourist association and the North Eastern Michigan Development bureau. A reproduction of a photograph of the log cabin offices of the two organizations was used.

GUN FIRE SHATTERS WINDOWS AND DRIVES AWAY WHALES

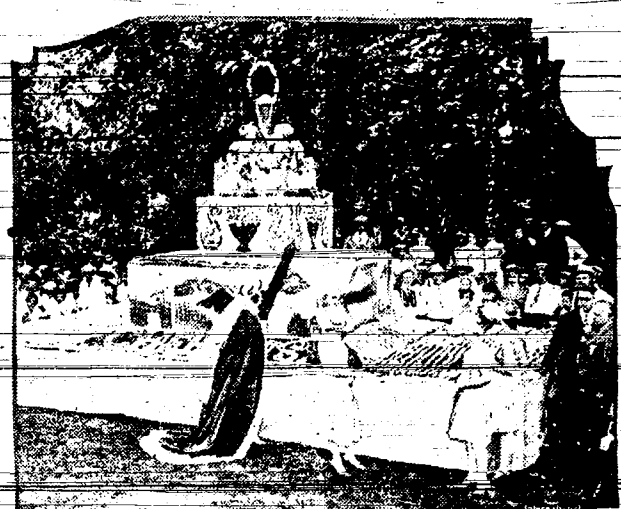

According to a News Bulletin received from the Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit, the United States Battle Fleet will hold their gunnery exercises in new areas this year.

The new areas assigned will take the fleet out some 100 miles from the California coast. At this distance all complaints from the coastal cities, who claim that the gun-fire has shattered windows, are expected to be brought to an end. The change from San Clemente Island, where the drillings were previously held, is also expected to overcome the objections of a whaling firm, which claims that gun-fire last year drove away the whales.

SUPERIOR ABILITY OF NO VALUE WITHOUT THRIFT AND INDUSTRY

(By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift.)

"Myself, work hard and long." This was the answer recently made by Premier Mussolini when asked for the secret of his accomplishments in Italy.

Go down the line of great business leaders in America today and ask them why they are succeeding. They could it would be found, appropriate, make use of Mussolini's words in reply.

Peter the Great who introduced western ideals of civilization in old Russia traveled as a domestic servant to an Ambassador and worked in the dock-yard of Holland and England. He did this that he might learn the meaning of work. Before he could lead others along the lines of industry, he himself, like Mussolini, must know the advantage of working hard and long.

The late James B. Duke, a man of genius in the organization and development of a great business, discussing his own attainments, once said: "Any young man with common intelligence can succeed if he is willing to longer. I know plenty of people who have failed to succeed in anything who have more brains than I, but they lacked application and determination. I had confidence in myself."

Not enough is said of the value of persistent industry. This is not to glorify drudgery. Hard work, to bring results, must be purposeful. We must work toward a definite goal—work intelligently. There is a vast difference between wasted effort and intelligent effort. Hard work in itself does not bring success but there can be no success without it. Industry and thrift are essential where progress is to be attained.

Is THIRTY the Love? Deadline.

James J. Montague was born in Mason City, Iowa, but soon migrated to Oregon. While there he worked on the Morning Oregonian. Arthur Brisbane saw some of his editorials and made overtures which resulted in Mr. Montague's coming to New York. That was the beginning of seventeen years in the service of the Hearst organization, during which period Montague was managing editor of the New York Evening Journal wrote a daily verse and still does under a pseudonym. He is now editor of "More Truth Than Poetry." He covered all the big stories, winding up with the peace conference. When Jimmy resigned from the Hearst organization he became associated with a newspaper syndicate. In addition to this he writes for the Sunday papers a weekly humorous story, and in his spare time turns out a daily editorial. He fills in by presiding at occasional magazine story. Mr. Montague is over thirty, and is married.

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

Phenomenal accounted for a famous British general's popularity with women by explaining that he allowed them to give him advice. Phenomenal explanation comparable with that which is engendered by the bestowing of favors. I have known elderly client managers to bankrupt themselves trying vainly to make stars out of their wives. And the more money they lost the more ardent became their affection for the pretty little dumbbells, who never could learn to do anything but stand still and look beautiful.

If love means unselfish devotion and it ought to—men who are past thirty are more capable of possessing it than men under thirty. And their capacity increases as they reach mature years—which often are years of indifference. The youthful husband thinks a good deal about himself. When his "missions" once have lost their brutal force, as Tennessee said in a mean poem he wrote about a girl who refused him, he begins to wonder what kind of a break he is getting out of wedded life. He "looks out of the window" oftener than an older man does. He thinks tenderly of the girls he might have had, and of the things that might have been.

After that he begins to feel sorry for himself and the time of his romance is over. But there is something almost maternal in the affection of a man of more advanced years, and there is no greater love than mother love. He is transported to think that this lovely creature—even though she were a spinster of thirty or more when he married her—has really consented to let him give her flowers, and take her to the theater, and sit patiently around modistes shops while she tries on costumes.

He thinks up little surprises to delight her. He sets out of the weekly poker event, and actually takes her around the golf course with him every day. I have yet to see a young man doing that more than a couple of times in a year.

Most young men are fairly swollen with courage in the beginning of their love. They have accumulated enough money to support a wife in reason. The comfort. Such a man wants her to listen and understand him when he brings home the flowers on the balance sheet and tells her how the advice he gave the sales manager resulted in a big business for the year. The comfort that she will be thrilled with all the shiny things which he can get no one else to share.

And when she turns through his conversation, suggests going out to the theater or the movies he begins to think that he is not appreciated, and she is no longer as beautiful or as intelligent in his eyes as she was in the days of the courtship. He may get used to her after that and regard her with a sort of deliberate tolerance, but it would be somewhat inaccurate to term that sort of feeling love.

The word "date" means an old gentleman. Perhaps there is some etymological connection between them. Anyway, men who get married after thirty while they are far more easily the victims of female fortune hunters, are far less likely to try to break out of the trap, and far more apt to glory in their fetters. When there is a break in the unity due to the lady for she is always romantic, and seldom can help regretting that she didn't meet John thirty more a little earlier. About women I am not so sure. Nobody is, or ever has been. Yet I know of a number of them who still believe that their husbands have the physical attractiveness of a movie star, the strength of a team runner, and the mentality of all the world's greatest thinkers—including philosophers—rolled into one. It is the maternal instinct in them that makes them love the men they married. And men born of women, inherit maternal instincts too. That is what makes them ardent lovers after thirty, provided they marry girls who do not try to boss them, but continue to be clinging vines.

Far be it from me to enter into an academic argument with such a scholarly gentleman and profound thinker and observer as Mr. Will Durant. In default of equipment all I can say is that I believe he is wrong. His rule (© 1928, by the Ball Syndicate, Inc.)

Pave Streets With Jewels

The idea of streets paved with jewels and precious stones may have its poetic appeal, but this method has obvious disadvantages from the utilitarian viewpoint. It seems that a state trust, operating a factory to harden stones (formerly Ekaterinburg) recently sent 100 tons of such precious stones as topaz, nephrite and malachite for a nominal price under the impression that the stones represented nothing but "old junk."

The battle at the camp only lasted about a half hour. Some of the troops were engaged in action such as would be carried out during wartime was the reason for the noise.

A record-breaking crowd attended the fourth annual ball given by the 110th Hospital Company at the school gymnasium last Saturday night. The party was very attractive in every detail, the decorations of red and white making a beautiful setting for the party. The Company's own band furnished the music and it was excellent, so say many of those who attended. This affair is looked forward to each year with much enthusiasm by not only the soldiers but the town people as well. The boys are to be congratulated on the fine party they arranged for their fourth annual ball.

St. Mary's fifth annual fair held last Thursday at the school gymnasium again proved a big success with a fine amount added to the church treasury. There was a large crowd at the supper and a still larger one at the dance that followed in the evening, when an orchestra from the Michigan National Guard camp furnished the music. The ladies of St. Mary's church start in the middle of winter to plan their fair and besides their planning do their sewing so as not to have to do it during the warm weather. There are many willing workers and their untiring efforts make their fair during the summer the big success that it is. Mrs. Marius Hanson was the general chairman of this year's fair and she also was the instigator of the Grayling cook book, which is delighting so many housewives with its tested recipes. Many of these have been sold, but the ladies have a supply left and should you wish one you may see any one of the ladies of St. Mary's church. The Grayling cook book was the main feature this year and was an excellent idea. The price is $1.00 per copy.
